IN THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY.

Corporal Allen Huddleston has returned to army duties at Camp Zachary Taylor, near Louisville, after a visit to his mother, Mrs. Mozelle Huddleston, of Stoner avenue. Corp. Huddleston makes a fine-looking soldier and graces the khaki uniform with a soldierly bearing.

Mr. Thos. Higgins, formerly of Paris, who is connected with the construction work of the Wright Aeroplane Co., at Dayton, O., was a guest this week of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Higgins, near Paris. Mr. Higgins is an expert in wood work, and has been engaged with the Wright concern for several months.

Messrs. Leo Keller and John J. McCarthy were at Camp Zachary Taylor, Sunday, as guests of Mr. Chas. McCarthy, formerly of Paris, who is a member of the Kentucky contingent in training there. Charlie says he is going to do everything he can to help rid the earth of the Hun. He is in excellent health and likes camp life.

Joe Talbott, son of the late Mr. Richard Talbott, of Paris, and a well-known railroad man, enlisted in Uncle Sam's service at the Lexington recruiting station this week. Joe tried the marine and navy service, but the recruiting officers, finding he had spent many years in railroad work, persuaded him to enlist in that branch of the service. He will be transferred to one of the army camps this week for special training.

Frank Haskins and Jas. O'Connell, members of the Bourbon county draft now in the shipbuilding camp at Chester, Pa., write to County Clerk Pearce Paton, thanking for the donations of tobacco and cigarettes for the men. At the recent flag-raising held in Chester camp, seven of the men selected to participate in the ceremonies, were from Bourbon county. All the boys are in excellent health and working hard getting ready to do their bit toward suppressing the Huns.

Sergt. Roger D. Thomson, formerly of Paris, is now a member of the American Expeditionary Force in France, having safely landed on French soil recently. He wrote an interesting letter to his mother, Mrs. Roger Q. Thomson, who is at present a guest of her aunt, Mrs. John T. Hinton, in Paris, detailing his experiences and impressions. Among other things he stated that the ship prize crew of thirty men taken from a German submarine in mid-ocean, but didn't say what became of the submarine.

Mr. Marion Douglas, who is with the American Expeditionary Force in France, writes a most interesting letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Douglas, of Paris, mostly descriptive of scenes and impressions of La Belle France. Mr. Douglas is or was at the time the letter was written, driver of one of the big 3½ ton army motor trucks, engaged in transporting supplies to the front. Mr. Douglas is very optimistic as to the outcome of the war and basing his prophecies on the wonderful successes of the Americans and the Allies, if of the firm opinion that Germany will lose the fight.

Lieut. Thos. G. Holt, son of Mr. J. Cal Holt, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who formerly resided in Bourbon county, is with the American Expeditionary Force in France. With other Americans on the Toul front he received the Croix de Guerre (Cross of War) from the French Government in recognition of bravery and fidelity to duty. According to a report in the New York Times, Lieut. Holt, who is a member of the 101st Field Artillery, displayed great courage and coolness while under fire on the battlefield. He is a nephew of Mr. J. Harry Holt and Mrs. H. C. Buckner, of this county, and is a graduate of Yale.

Apropos of the recent marriage of Corp. John M. Stuart, of Paris, to Miss Bobbie Morris, at Indianapolis, Ind., the Indianapolis Times says:

"A midnight marriage took place last night at the Metropole barracks, when John M. Stuart, of Paris, Ky., one of the men in the vocational detachment, and Miss Bob Morris, of this city, formerly of Paris, Ky., were made man and wife.

"Stuart was transferred to another camp this morning, and the marriage was performed in order to permit him to make train connections and report for duty.

"It's got to be a honeymoonless trip this time," said Stuart, as his friends inquired about the details of his marriage plans."

W. O. Pennington, formerly of Paris, now a salty tar on the Mississippi, one of Uncle Sam's big battleships on the Atlantic coast, is in Paris on a furlough. Pennington and Ed. Doty left Philadelphia at the same time, but through red tape and different train connections Pennington's arrival was delayed. He is now in charge of a detail engaged in special training on the Mississippi, requiring possession of mechanical skill and knowledge of the use of special tools and machinery. Pennington says Ed. Fitzpatrick has de-

DEEP MYSTERY ENSHROUDS THIS AUTOMOBILE COLLISION.

The finding of an abandoned and badly wrecked automobile near the Tarr home on the Maysville pike, about three miles from Millersburg, Wednesday morning, lends a touch of mystery to an affair which has not yet been unraveled.

Early passers-by on the road came upon the machine, which had evidently been in collision with another, turned turtle and resting at the bottom of a ditch. The ground around gave evidence of a collision, and a busted tire from the other machine was found a little further away.

Bloodstains on the sides of the demolished car and on the upholstery led to the belief that one of the occupants had been severely injured. The place where the collision occurred is somewhat remote from a house, and no one has been found who heard the machines crash. The license tag on the wrecked machine had either been lost or removed.

It was stated yesterday that one of the occupants of the machine was a dentist in a neighboring town, who, according to rumor, sustained a broken leg. The rumors could not be verified, however. Nothing was apparently known at Millersburg of the happening, nor could anyone be found who could identify the car.

The damaged machine was towed to Paris and sent to a local garage for repairs, awaiting the call of the owner.

Efforts from the Paris end of the story to get at the truth of the matter have been baffling and the whole affair awaits the coming of some Sherlock Holmes with ingenuity enough to solve the mystery.

MAYOR JANUARY ISSUES W. S. S. DAY PROCLAMATION.

To the Citizens of Paris, Ky.:

Friday, June 28, 1918, is officially designated National War Savings Day by the President of the United States and the Secretary of the Treasury. All loyal citizens of this community will accordingly devote the afternoon of said day, beginning at two o'clock, to attending the public meeting of your neighborhood and to subscribing for a specified amount of War Savings Stamps, to be purchased during the remaining months of the year.

All who are able should pledge themselves to save and invest to the limit allowed by law, and should promote the sale of this valuable Government security in large amounts during Pledge Week in Kentucky, June 24 to June 28 next.

E. B. JANUARY, Mayor.

LOCAL OIL COMPANY BRINGS IN NEW WELL.

There was rejoicing Wednesday at the office of the Bourbon Oil & Development Co. over the receipt of a telegram from Field Manager Jas. H. Moreland in the Estill county field, where the company has large holdings.

The telegram stated that Well No. 2 had been drilled in on the James Rogers farm, and was estimated as being a thirty-barrel producer. Location was being made and drill moved to No. 3 Well, where work of drilling will begin immediately upon erection of the rig.

Mr. Moreland was in Paris, Wednesday night and confirmed the news. He stated that the Bourbon Oil and Development Co.'s prospects were excellent in the Estill fields, and that the wells that have been drilled in are flowing strongly. Mr. Moreland returned yesterday morning to Irvine, where he will take active charge of the work on the company's leases.

RED CROSS CANARIES TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

The Red Cross canaries, "General Pershing" and "Jack Pershing," which were donated to the local Chapter by Mrs. Frankie Paton, will be given away at eleven o'clock next Wednesday morning at the office of the Edwards Realty Co., adjoining Nicholas Kriener's harness store.

The birds were raised by Mrs. Paton, and are remarkably fine specimens of these songsters. They were donated for patriotic purposes, and have been the means of adding about $100 to the Chapter's funds.

Everybody is invited to come to the rooms on next Wednesday morning and attend the reception to be given by the canaries.

veloped into the saltiest of sailors, and his happy-go-lucky disposition has made him one of the best-liked boys in the service. Fitz is now doing temporary duty in special service in the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Pennington is taking a special course of study with a view of securing a higher rating in the service.

Edward C. Doty, of the U. S. S. Nevada, who has been in Paris on a furlough for five days, returned yesterday to his ship. Mr. Doty is a member of the gun crew on the Nevada, which is said to be one of the greatest fighting machines in the world.

IN THE SERVICE.

Former Governor James B. McCreary, who has just returned to Richmond from Washington, is practically certain that Congress will raise the draft age from 31 to 45. Gov. McCreary stated that from talks he had with Government officials, Congressmen and Senators he was sure this action would be taken.

JUNE 24 TO 30 TO BE NEW CLASSIFICATION WEEK.

June 24 to 30 will be "class one week" with local exemption boards, at which time they will revise classifications under instructions from Major Henry F. Rhodes, selective service officer for Kentucky.

In a circular letter to the boards he said, "the status of the number of men in class one is lower than the average" and special attention is invited to the dependency clause.

The re-classification includes those erroneously granted deferred classification by district boards, and he said: "Always bear in mind that war will create some sacrifice and hardship. No person has a right to refuse to sacrifice luxuries. On the other hand it is not the intention of the law to deprive dependents of a reasonably adequate support. Reasonably adequate support can not be determined by rule of thumb, but must be determined with common sense and sympathy in the facts of each individual case. What would be adequate support in one locality may not be in another. The question of adequate support must be determined with the thought always in mind that the present classification scheme is designed to raise our armies with a minimum of hardship and suffering to those who are left at home."

Complete inspection of all questionnaires, where deferred classification has been granted is ordered, with directions to re-examine under the new standard of physical examination, now being issued. They may bring in for limited service many men heretofore totally rejected.

While the order practically applies only to Class 2, A and B; Class 3, A, B and C; and Class 4, the boards are not limited to these.

COLOR DRAFTS TO LEAVE FOR CAMP ZACHARY TAYLOR

Forty-four colored men, selected under the terms of the selective draft law, will leave Paris to-morrow morning, Saturday, June 22, for Camp Zachary Taylor, where they will be taken into the service of the United States army in different branches.

The men have been ordered to report to the members of the Board of Exemption at their office in the court house at five o'clock this afternoon, when they will receive their final instructions, and be supplied with toilet articles, cigarettes and tobacco. They will be permitted to return to their homes or remain in the city, at their discretion. They will be tendered a supper at night. To-morrow morning they will report to the Board at the court house at seven o'clock, and will march to the Louisville & Nashville passenger station, at Tenth street, where they will entrain for Camp Taylor. The list of those who will leave to-day has been published in all the Paris papers.

ANTI-VAGRANCY AND ANTI-SHIPPING LAWS NOW IN EFFECT

Yesterday witnessed the putting into effect of the two new laws recently passed, having an "anti" tag to them. The anti-shipping liquor bill, which makes the State, or many parts of it, bone-dry, went into effect at one minute after midnight and was in full force and effect on yesterday morning.

There was much speculation among the thirsty ones whether they would be permitted to make their usual trips to and from Lexington, the closest source of supply, on Wednesday. A rumor had been in circulation that the Louisville & Nashville and the Traction officials had issued an order prohibiting persons from getting on their cars with liquor in their possession, but this proved to be a canard and the boys with a dry throat came back on the different cars with a supply of the wet goods in their possession, so it is alleged. From now on only water, and soft drinks will be the rule, and rumor says the water has been proven slightly contaminated, so what is a poor fellow going to do?

The authorities were strictly on the job in enforcing the anti-vagrancy law and made many rounds of the city looking up men and women who possibly had not complied with the provisions of the measure. Pool rooms and other places where the gentlemen of leisure congregated were a deserted look, and there was a noticeable absence of loafers on the streets. Several negro men and women who were found on the streets, apparently without work, and who could not give a satisfactory explanation, were given a vigorous admonition to get work of some kind immediately. The law is a good one, and will be enforced here, the authorities say, without fear or favor.

TO FARMERS AND THRESHERS.

Another department of the Food Administration, the threshing machine department, has been created. It is known that not a grain of wheat should be lost that might be saved. Mr. Joshua Bohannon, care Food Administration, 315 Guthrie Street, Louisville, Ky., is Chairman of this department for the State of Kentucky, and through his organization every threshing machine will be put and kept in perfect condition and the elimination of waste regarded from many angles.

The Food Administration chairman are asked to help Mr. Bohannon by reporting to him any negligence along these lines: 1st. See that a tarpaulin is stretched under the threshers so that all the grain may be saved. 2d. See that the grain is thoroughly cleaned up after the threshers so that none of it will be lost. 3d. See that the wagons carrying the grain from the threshers have tight bottoms so that the grain will not spill.

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT.

The sessions of the Bourbon Circuit Court, which began here Monday morning were resumed Tuesday, the principal business being the trial of the case of Oscar N. Johnson, charged with the killing of Walter A. Rice, in this city on the night of January 19. Both sides having announced their readiness, the trial was entered into.

Considerable time was devoted to securing a jury, which was finally accomplished and the trial of the case was begun at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The jury selected to try the case is composed of J. H. Fuhrman, J. W. Liver, J. F. Ingels, Geo. W. Link, James Doty, Albert Mitchell, John F. Young, Richard H. Willis, Edward Spears, J. T. Judy, Luther McIntyre and Charles Green. After statements to the jury by the counsel on both sides of the case, the taking of testimony was begun. A large number of witnesses for both the defense and the Commonwealth were present, and the time of the Court was taken up with hearing the evidence.

The principal witness was A. S. Askew, a traveling man, who testified he was in the restaurant where the shooting took place, in conversation with Johnson and Rice, and that there was nothing in their conversation to indicate any ill-feeling between them. When Johnson was preparing to leave the restaurant Rice invited him to call on his wife, who was in Livingston, adding that she would be glad to see him. Johnson left the building, but returned soon and opened fire on Rice without saying a word as to his intention or warning his victim, according to the testimony. Johnson, following the shooting, surrendered to the police, saying that he felt justified in shooting Rice.

Both men were in the employ of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and were well-known here and in Eastern Kentucky. The Commonwealth was represented in the prosecution of the case against Johnson by Commonwealth's Attorney Victor Bradley, of Georgetown, County Attorney D. D. Cline and Attorney John J. Williams, of Paris, and Judge L. W. Bethurum, Mt. Vernon; the defense by Attorney Oscar T. Hinton, of Paris, and Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset.

The taking of testimony continued through Wednesday until three o'clock, when both sides closed. The principal witness for the defense was the defendant, Johnson, who testified as to occurrences, both before and after the tragedy. He declared insulting remarks made about his sister by Rice was the cause leading up to the shooting. A number of witnesses were introduced to show that Johnson had a bad reputation for peace and good order in the community in which he resided. Dr. Albert N. Barry, an expert from Ann Arbor, Mich., testified on forms of insanity. Rebuttal testimony closed the case, and the arguments were taken up. Attorney Oscar T. Hinton opened for the defense, followed by Judge Bethurum for the prosecution. He was followed in a powerful argument for the defense by Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, temporary insanity being the plea of defense.

At the close of Mr. Morrow's argument Judge Stout ordered an adjournment taken until nine o'clock yesterday morning, and the jury was turned over to the Sheriffs, with the usual admonitions. At the opening of Court yesterday morning the closing argument for the Commonwealth was made by Commonwealth's Attorney Bradley.

Upon the reconvening of Court yesterday morning the argument for the Commonwealth was renewed by Commonwealth's Attorney Victor Bradley, whose speech of an hour and a half, closed the case and the argument for the prosecution. Judge Stout then read the instructions to the jury, which, in effect, were that under the law and testimony, they were to fix the penalty at life imprisonment or death. He then gave them the usual admonition, after which they retired to their rooms and began their deliberations. At noon they were taken to the Windsor Hotel for dinner.

Upon the reconvening of Court for the afternoon session the spokesman of the jury called Judge Stout and announced that they had agreed upon a verdict. The verdict was handed to the Clerk, who read it. The verdict inflicted the death penalty. The usual questions were asked, each member of the jury responding in the affirmative, making the verdict a unanimous one. The jury was out on the case about two hours. Judge Stout ordered the verdict placed on the record, and the jury was discharged.

This is the first time in many years that the death penalty has been given in a murder case in this county. The defendant, Johnson, who was brought into Court to hear the verdict, was visibly affected, and showed signs of nervousness. He was taken back to jail in charge of Jailor Thos. Taul.

No business was transacted in court yesterday afternoon, and the juries were all discharged until this morning. It had been anticipated that the trial of the Johnson case and the arguments following would consume the entire day, but the jury returning the verdict at noon upset the calculation. The trial of the Harp murder case will probably be the next.

Should we not consider it a privilege to save to help our boys?

NOTED VOCALIST TO SING HERE NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

By a stroke of good fortune the local Chapter of the American Red Cross has arranged to bring to Paris on next Monday night for a concert one of the most noted song-birds in the country to-day, Miss Lucille Lawrence, who will sing for the benefit of the Red Cross at the Grand Opera House.

Miss Lawrence is the only Kentucky girl, as far as known has become famous as an actress and a singer of great roles in the great opera houses of Europe and in America. Miss Lawrence continued her triumphs in Europe for two seasons after the war. Miss Lawrence has never sung in her native State, and plans to devote the month of June to singing for the various Red Cross Chapters wherever they find her work may be of use.

Miss Lawrence has just returned from Cuba, where she was the soloist at the largest Red Cross benefit that has been held in any of the allied nations. It was given under the auspices of Mme. Menocal, wife of the President of Cuba, and at the close of her singing, Miss Lawrence was presented by the U. S. minister after a memorable speech, with the handsomest embroidered shawl ever imported into Cuba. Miss Lawrence was chosen by the composer Puccini to create the title role in his opera "The Girl of the Golden West," and was also the soloist at the famous Verdi Requiem held at the New York polo grounds. It is a most unusual opportunity to music lovers of the Blue Grass to hear such a wonderful artist as Miss Lawrence, as she is probably the greatest singer that has ever been in Paris. She is giving an entire month of her time and all the proceeds of the concerts to the local Red Cross chapters, and certainly will be rewarded here with as big a crowd and as loyal a welcome as she will have anywhere in the State.

Miss Lawrence will give the following program at her concert:

Aria from "La Forza del Destino"—Verdi.
Songs by American Composers:
"Long Ago"—MacDowell.
"An Evening Song"—Gilbert.
"Little Boy Blue"—Nevin.
"By an' By"—Burleigh.
Aria from "La Tosca"—Puccini.
Intermission.
Two Neapolitan Songs:
"Ave Maria"—Günod.
"La Marseillaise," (in costume.)
"Star Spangled Banner," with audience.

BOURBON COUNTY INTERESTED IN THE BABY WEIGHING

More than two million babies—in town, and country, rich and poor, well and sickly—are tipping the scales and standing up under the yearsticks, unless they are too little to stand up, in answer to the request of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor and the Woman's Committee of the National Council of Defense that parents enter their children in the nation-wide test, which began on April sixth, as the first step in the Children's Year campaign to save 100,000 babies.

In this city the work began at the Bourbon county court house, last Tuesday. Over fifty babies were weighed and measured, according to the instructions prescribed by the Child Welfare Bureau. The work was conducted under the supervision of Mrs. Thomas Allen, the County Chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harriet Minaker, Visiting Nurse for the Bourbon County Health and Welfare League, and local physicians and nurses. On the first day the work was in charge of Mrs. Minaker, Mrs. M. H. Dailey, Dr. J. A. Orr, Mrs. Fayette Ardery, Mrs. Oscar T. Hinton and Miss Elizabeth Brown.

The room will be open each afternoon this week at 2:30 o'clock. All mothers of children under six years of age are urged to bring them there for the test and receive a score card bearing the exact figures indicating the weight and measurements of their little ones.

KENTUCKY HORSE ENROUTE TO FRANCE FOR GEN. BELL

Somewhere on the high seas on board an army transport is a Bourbon county saddle horse, bound for France, where he may soon be burden bearer for a Kentucky-raised military man, Gen. J. Franklin Bell, of the U. S. army.

The animal, a beautiful bay, sixteen hands high, was presented to Gen. Bell by Mr. Edward F. Simms, of the Xalapa Farm and Houston, Texas, oil magnate. The horse, Mercurio, is seven-years old, was sired by Marvel King, and was purchased by Mr. Simms representatives from E. K. and C. M. Thomas, at their dispersal sale held some months ago. He has been shown in numerous show rings throughout the State, and has carried off a number of first prizes. He is said to be one of the finest specimens of saddle horses the bluegrass country has produced. General Bell should have great pleasure in riding this charger, for besides being "bred in old Kentucky," he is a remarkably game and high-spirited horse, to which the true Kentucky instinct for battle will no doubt prove second nature.

Don't Damn Your Town.

Any place is just what the men who live in it make it. Don't sit around and damn your town. A town is just as good or as bad as the people who are spending their time damning it. Every community, even if it hasn't more than two hundred inhabitants, should have a place where the cigars are good and where everyone can meet on equal terms and absorb a portion of the good qualities of the other; where the spirit of the Golden Rule can be instilled; for no one can deny this perfectly scientific principle. A town is seldom the result of virgin natural conditions. In any event it was man who first saw the natural advantages and frequently it was some one individual.

You can hear of people in one place saying, those who are engaged in mercantile, artistic and scientific pursuits, "If we were only in this or that town we could do so and so." And in that place they were speaking of, you can hear the people saying: "Oh, if we were just in some other town we might hope to do something and be something." And so it goes—rainbow chasing from one place to another. And the pity of it all is that with the proper spirit we all could make Paris as good as any other town in Kentucky.

Here, then, let us be up and doing. Let us co-operate in the building of a five town boosting organization—we've tried Commercial Clubs that almost died a-born. Lend your support to the town's newspapers. Improve labor conditions and try to attract manufacturing industries. Beautify the town in order to hold the people already there. Do these simple things and we will be laying the foundation for a solid growth for Paris.

Getting a Start in Manufacturing.

One of the big problems bothering a great many American young men, recently graduated from colleges and schools, is as to how they can get a start in some line of manufacturing. This is perhaps the opportunity that looks most attractive to the bulk of our business beginners.

Some thoughts on this question were presented the past week to the National Association of Manufacturers, by a committee on industrial education. The committee urged that rich men's boys and poor men's boys should be trained at the same school in basic processes of manufacture.

A great many ambitious young men take jobs at office work. They may spend years in dictating letters, receiving and shipping orders, keeping books, and passing on credits. And after they have spent the first flush of their young manhood they may have but a superficial knowledge of the process of making the goods.

They might be able to run a business, if these processes continue the same year after year. But fashions of manufacture change fast. The office trained man is incapable of adapting himself to these changes and his subordinates take advantage of his ignorance.

The thoroughly trained factory manager should be able to go into the mill and perform any process himself, at least well enough so he can know when an employee does it skillfully and effectively. But the men who have broad business training, and those who have had broad education are helpless when they see a tool or a machine.

The work at the bench comes closer to the heart of a business than any function performed with clean hands in an office. As time goes on there will be more trade schools, as suggested by the manufacturers' committee referred to above, where young men can acquire general technical knowledge without doing some routine thing over and over again for years.

Get In This Class.

The June campaign for War Savings is expected to put before Uncle Sam his "best" citizens; that is, all who subscribe immediately for the baby bonds. A strict account is to be kept of all who subscribe, and a still stricter account of all who do not. Every man, woman and child is to go on record, and reports will be sent to Washington immediately following the campaign. It is in this way that Uncle Sam can round up the slackers—those who don't "go across" and those who don't "come across." Every American citizen must do one or the other—some of them have done both.

Uncle Sam is having no trouble in massing his fighting army for across the seas; it's the stay-at-home army which doesn't realize its own importance that he is rounding up. Don't wait till he "gets" you; volunteer your dollar for War Savings Stamps, and do it before June 28.

Now, Listen To This!

"The idea of the average newspaper man," says Arthur Brisbane in a recent address bristling with pointed truths, "is that he has done his whole duty if he convinces somebody that all the other newspapers are bad, quite overlooking the fact that the intelligent man may say: 'In that case yours is about the same.'"

You may note it as a fact that the best newspaper is invariably found among those newspapers which attend to the business of making newspapers without wasting their time running down other newspapers. But even the best newspapers share to some degree the ill repute given to newspapers in general by those who can see only evil in their competitors.

IT'S PRETTY SOFT FOR YOU!

You are a merchant, a manufacturer, a broker, a lawyer—willing, but fat; patriotic, but forty. You can't stand the gaff, so there is a soldier in France doing your fighting for you. No matter what sacrifice of ease, time and money you are making, beside the lot of your soldier in France, it's pretty soft for you, isn't it?

You are young, you are strong, but because you are a good farmer your country orders you to serve at home, raising food for the soldiers. You are sweating in the fields from sun-up to sun-down, short of labor, fertilizer and materials, but beside the lot of your soldier in France, it's pretty soft for you, isn't it?

You are working in the office, the shop or the factory, some because your country requires it, some because age or condition demands it. You are doing hard work, good work, patriotic work, but after all, beside the lot of your soldier in France, it's pretty soft for you, isn't it?

You have a soldier in France who is facing death for you. What can you do for him? There is very little that you can do for him in comparison to what he is doing for you. But—

You can give him yourself—your loyalty in thought, word and deed. You can give him your money—to the last dollar if he needs it to carry on your fight. But—

Your country does not ask you to give, but to invest, your savings in the best and safest bond on earth—the War Savings Stamps.

It's pretty soft for you, isn't it? Buy your War Savings Stamps today that your soldier in France may know that the man for whom he's going through Hell has fighting stuff in him, even if he has to stay at home.

MICKIE SAYS

YOU'RE RIGHT, MICKIE! A MAN WHO SNEAKS OUT OF PAYING HIS BACK SUBSCRIPTION BY REFUSING THE PAPER AT THE POSTOFFICE IS A PESKY POLECAT AND AN ORNERY HYENA, BUT STILL IT WAS POOR JUDGMENT FOR YOU TO TELL HIM SO TO HIS FACE, FOR HE FEELS MEAN ENOUGH ALREADY, AND I CAN SUE HIM AND GET THE MONEY.

CHAIRMAN VANDERLIP SENDS THIS MESSAGE TO COUNTY CHAIRMEN OF KENTUCKY

Washington, D. C., June 14, 1918

James B. Brown,
State Director of Kentucky,
Louisville, Ky.

Reports from all sections of the United States indicate big success for the War Savings Campaign for Pledges. I am depending on your State not to fall behind the others. Close adherence to the National plan, with particular emphasis on large pledges, and other essential features, backed by thorough, comprehensive organization and increasing effort will insure success.

Insist on every community pledging its quota. We are doing everything possible at Washington to back you up.

THRESHERMEN AND MILLERS HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

Bourbon County farmers, threshers and millers held a meeting at the Court House Tuesday afternoon, at which time prices for threshing wheat, rye and barley and the price of labor necessary for such work, was decided upon.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Lawrence D. Mitchell, of North Middletown, Bourbon County Food Administrator, and was largely attended by Bourbon County farmers.

The owners of threshing machines and the farmers came to an agreement on prices to control the threshing of grain as follows:

Wheat, 25 cents per bushel.
Rye, 30 cents per bushel.
Barley, 20 cents per bushel.
No price was placed on the threshing of oats.

The question of labor and the prices to govern same in the field during the threshing season was discussed and the scale of prices adopted was as follows:

Sackers, $3 per day.
Straw men, $3 per day.
Field men, $2.25 per day.
Two-horse wagon and driver, $5.50 per day.

The question of sacks was taken up with the grain dealers and millers and it developed that there was about half enough sacks in the county to care for the 400,000 bushels of wheat to be threshed, and that the elevator capacity in Bourbon County was around 200,000 bushels.

To meet this wheat sack scarcity, it was decided that every farmer should appoint himself a Committee of one to see that he hauled no sacks from the grain dealers or mills until he was ready to thresh his wheat, and that as soon as his wheat had been threshed that he would haul it to the elevator or granary so that his fellow wheat raiser could have sacks to care for his wheat.

Threshermen at the meeting agreed to take all grain fields as they came, and not to skip from one neighborhood to the other. In other words, all fields of wheat will be threshed out as they come, regardless of whether they contain twenty acres or five hundred acres.

Mr. Joshua Bohannon, of Louisville, Inspector Grain Threshing Division of the U. S. Food Administration Grain Corporation, was present and gave the farmers valuable information regarding the conduct of their organization.

WILHELM WAS CROOKED BEFORE WAR BEGAN

German proof of the saying that all is not gold that glitters was forthcoming in New York with the disclosure that the "magnificent" cup which Emperor Wilhelm awarded to the American winner of his ocean yacht race in 1905 was not gold and was not worth $5,000, as was announced at the time. It was made of pewter with a thin veneer of gold and was worth scarcely $40.

The deception recoiled against the emperor during the recent Red Cross drive, it was revealed, as it was auctioned and reaucted until it added $125,000 to the nation's mercy fund.

President Wilson was in the audience when the "gold" trophy, bearing the Emperor's likeness engraved on the side was smashed with a hammer on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House, in New York, a few weeks ago. Persons who had desired to see the cup broken had paid $5 each to the Red Cross to get on the stage. The "gold" remnants were later to have been sold for cash for the Red Cross, but the dealer to whom they were offered, said they were pewter, and he was not an alchemist.

Wilson Marshall's yacht, Atlantic, won the race for which the cup was the prize.

It is cheaper to spend a lot of money to win the war than not to win it.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 850,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

ENTIRE FAMILY MEET DEATH ON RAILROAD CROSSING.

At Stanford Monday afternoon, six persons, including four small children, were killed outright, and a fifth child was seriously, probably fatally, injured, when an automobile, in which were riding was struck by train No. 2, the C. & N. O. & T. P.'s fast passenger between Jacksonville, Fla., and Cincinnati.

The dead are: George Hunn, his wife and four sons, George, Randolph and Ambrose Hunn, and their infant son, who were from 2 to 10 years old.

They were killed instantly, while Coulter White, 3-year-old nephew of Mrs. Hunn, was so badly hurt that he probably will not recover.

The boy, who alone in the party of seven escaped death, was rushed to a hospital in Danville.

George Hunn was a conspicuous business man of Moreland, Ky., where he had been in business for many years. He was senior member of the firm of Hunn & Coffey.

Hunn and his family had started for Danville to visit friends, and were less than a mile from home when the sextuple tragedy occurred.

The train was northbound, seven miles from Danville, and hit the automobile at Milledgeville crossing.

From the crossing it is almost impossible to see an approaching train, and it is supposed neither Hunn nor any member of the family saw or heard it.

The auto was struck squarely as it was about half way across the tracks. Its seven passengers were hurled some distance away and the machine shattered.

Engineer Edward Bradley, who lives in Danville, brought his train to a stop, and he and members of the train crew and passengers gathered the six bodies together and placed them in the baggage car, while a Cincinnati woman, who refused to give her name, took little Coulter White in her arms and mothered the mangled baby during the short ride to Danville.

The bodies of the mother, father and four children were turned over to a Danville undertaker to be prepared for burial, and the White child was removed to a hospital.

STATE'S NEED OF ART MUSEUM.

When this cruel war is over, we shall again have the leisure to cherish our traditions and to promote institutions for advancing culture and art.

Kentucky was one of the first art centers West of the Alleghenies. Chaumiere, the palatial residence of Colonel Mead, the first country estate of wealth and dignity in the territory now comprising the State of Kentucky, contained an art gallery. Marion Harland tells us that though small, it contained two portraits by Sir Joshua Reynolds.

Before Cincinnati was an art center, John Grimes, Mathew Jouett and Chester Harding were painting portraits in Lexington, in Paris, at Nicholasville, that to-day are worth thousands of dollars. Subsequently General Price and Oliver Frazier did work that helped to make standards for the present day Kentuckians. Later artists whose names are known throughout the union appeared upon our horizon to be eclipsed by Frank Duveneck, of Covington, Ky., who is called by Joseph Pennell, the master of living American painters.

Joel T. Hart, the pioneer sculptor in realism, lived in Lexington and dreamed his dreams that were later so skillfully embodied in marble as to live long years after he and his contemporaries had passed.

However, it is not only the work of Kentucky's own sons that we should collect and protect for coming generations, but it is these and other pieces of real artistic worth that are scattered over the State, some of which are in remote places where the public never sees them, some of which are almost unknown, some of which are being sold out of the State. Some of these are not appreciated by their present owners.

There are portraits by Chester Harding, by General Price, by Sully, by John Grimes, by Mathew Jouett and by Benjamin West in Lexington. There are paintings in the State done by Reubens, Van Dyke, Van Eyke, Eastman Johnson, Gilbert Stuart and by John Trumbull. There are three great pieces of Joel T. Hart's work privately owned in Kentucky. These are all in remote places seldom seen by any one. Many of these pieces are valued and would be donated to a collection if we had a collection properly and safely housed.

Recently a Jouett portrait was sold out of Kentucky for a price requiring five figures for the writing. I know of one portrait by Jouett in storage, and one by General Price in a house that is closed the greater part of the year. One picture by the greatest of these painters is hung in a bedroom on the second floor.

Colonel Durrett's library containing the best collection of Kentucky history was bought by the University of Chicago for thirty thousand dollars. Should we let our art treasures go in the same way? Shall we sit by and see them go or shall we preserve them for Kentucky's own children and for the thousands of youths who come to us as students each year?

Let us keep this need in mind, mature plans for the accomplishment of this desire. Let us, when the war is ended, provide a suitable house or protection for loans that many loyal Kentuckians would gladly make. (From an address by Miss Caroline Berry before the Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs.)

FRANKFORT PAPER ENTHUSES OVER COOP & LENT CIRCUS.

The Coop & Lent Circus, which appears here next Tuesday, gave a performance in Frankfort, Monday. The Frankfort State Journal, in a very enthusiastic lengthy notice of the performance, said in part:

"Circus day in Frankfort is always a big day, but yesterday was the biggest circus day in this city for a long time. The people were circus hungry, and at both the afternoon and night performances of the Coop & Lent big shows there were great crowds. The most satisfactory feature about the entire show is that everything advertised was staged, and nothing advertised could have been staged better. It is a safe bet, that not one person went to either performance who was not satisfied, although the cost was more likely than had been anticipated.

"A ten cent war tax was charged for the admission to the big show. A ten cent war tax was charged also for a reserve seat, so that to the circus patrons who had to put up the twenty cents extra, and not being used to it, at the moment there was a feeling that the cost for the show was too much. When the performance had been completed, however, everybody felt satisfied, feeling that they had more than received their money's worth."

DON'T SHOOT PIGEONS: MAY BE ARMY MESSENGERS.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture urges hunters not to shoot pigeons in air, for they may be homing pigeons being trained in many sections by the Signal Corps of the United States Army to carry messages across battlefields. Farmers and other breeders who allow their birds a few hours of liberty each day also are liable to loss from shooting.

When one of our soldier or sailor boys makes the supreme sacrifice we say he died doing his duty. When one of us over here buys an interest-bearing Government security we want to be called a patriot. Let's buy War Savings Stamps to help our country and be glorified.

Lend your money as freely as our boys are giving themselves.

CASTOR OIL AND TYPEWRITER RIBBONS MAY BOW TO WAR.

Castor oil and typewriter ribbons are due to go out of business pretty soon, in the opinion of T. J. Kuetler, who spoke before the Western Efficiency Society in the Auditorium Hotel, in Chicago. He said both oil and the ribbon material for typewriter ribbons are needed in airplane manufacture, wherefore they may soon be unobtainable. He said the substitutes have become as expensive as the original materials in many products.

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR W. S. S. MASS MEETING.

The big War Savings Stamps campaign, which is being waged all over the United States, will end on the afternoon of June 28, with mass-meetings held at all points in the country. These mass-meetings will be in the nature of a finale for the big drive, when those cities and counties which have not completed their quotas will be expected to make a supreme effort to come up to the line.

The mass-meeting in this city will be held at the court house at three o'clock, at which time it is hoped that every citizen of the city and county will be present and take part in the proceedings. A speaker of note will be present to make the principal address of the afternoon. The program, which will be announced later on, will be one that cannot but be of interest to all who attend.

Preceding the mass-meeting a monster parade will take place, the line of march being down Main street to the court house. The parade will be divided into divisions composed of the various Red Cross and War Savings Stamps organizations, the city and county officials, the fire and police departments, Home Guard Girls, Red Cross nurses, etc. Chairmen have been appointed to see to the formation of each division and to see that everyone who so desires may participate in the parade in the division of their choice. These chairmen have been designated as follows:

Red Cross Nurses, Mrs. George W. Clay; Home Guard Girls, Mrs. Edward Spears; Fire Department, Ullman Lancaster; City Officials, in automobiles, Mayor E. B. January; County Officials, in automobiles, County Judge Batterton; Ladies on Horseback, Mrs. James H. Thompson, Jr.; Liberty Loan Banners, Withers Davis; Red Cross Banners, Mrs. M.

H. Dalley; Y. M. C. A. Banners, H. A. Power and T. H. Clay, Jr., Police, Chief of Police Fred Link.

Every patriotic and public-spirited citizen in the city and county is urged to participate in the parade. Every precinct in the county will be represented, and it is the desire of the committees to have as large a representation as possible from all over the county.

THE MARCHMONT OIL COMPANY ORGANIZED BY PARIS MEN

What promises to be one of the most successful oil companies operating in the Kentucky oil fields was organized in this city Tuesday, June 18, it being named The Marchmont Oil Company. The officers of the concern are as follows: William Shire, the well-known jeweler, being elected President; Withers Davis, the popular young clothing merchant, being elected Vice-President, and Fayette Ardery, of the firm of Ardery Bros., being Secretary-Treasurer. The directors elected are as follows: William Shire, Charlton Clay, Withers Davis, James H. French and Fayette Ardery. Robert C. Talbott was chosen as general counsel.

This company has several hundred acres of good looking territory scattered throughout the oil producing territory and they will begin operations in the immediate future. They have one particularly valuable piece of property in Estill and Lee counties, which has been examined and approved by two well known geologists. They have one lease of seventy-five acres on the well-known Lee-Estill structure in close proximity to the famous Big and Little Sinking production, and they contemplate the commencement of drilling in that vicinity within the next few days.

The Kentucky oil fields are fast coming to the front as the very best in the United States, it appealing particularly to old-line oil men because of the small cost of operating the Kentucky wells, ranging in depth from three hundred to fifteen hundred feet, whereas the wells in the Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas fields range in depth all the way to three thousand five hundred feet. Kentucky is awakening to her great opportunity as an oil producing State and the Oil City Derrick, the greatest oil paper published, puts Kentucky at the head of the list for oil investments.

Winchester and Lexington are so far the oil centers of this State, but of late quite a number of Bourbon county people are getting interested in the oil game, and all indications point to a marked success for their efforts. Paris is very near the oil fields, and we know of no reason why we should not within the near future be also known as an oil center. We have as good business establishments here as there is in the State, and no banks anywhere are more substantial and successful than ours.

THE BEST OF HOME-KILLED FRESH MEATS.

Veal, pork, beef and lamb for today and Saturday. All home-killed and Bourbon-raised stock. No better meat ever offered for sale. MARGOLEN'S SANITARY MEAT MARKET. (11)

IT IS A LONG, LONG WAY TO W. S. QUOTA.

War Savings Stamps are being sold in this city and county every day, and those in charge of the campaign are achieving results that are to be expected when one considers how nobly Bourbon has responded to every phase of the war activities. It's a long, long way, however, to that $390,000, and only by a steady climb from now on can we get to a point of vantage where we can see over the top.

It is the earnest desire of Miss Elizabeth Steele, County Chairman and the efficient corps of assistants, that every citizen of this city and county shall be enrolled in the list of contributors to the War Savings campaign. Everyone should come forward and make the investment. You will not be giving your money, you will be putting it where it will be safe and where it will remain safe, too.

Few people in this county, indeed, now fail to realize that we are fighting a relentless, brutal enemy. The indictment against the Hun grows stronger every day. He is absolutely devoid of pity or chivalry. This is the kind of enemy our boys are fighting to-day and will be fighting for some time, and this is why all of us must get down and put every bit of our strength back of the Government. For one thing we must buy only those things necessary to maintain ourselves in the most efficient condition. That will give the Government more labor and materials for war purposes.

And then with our savings we must buy War Savings Stamps. That will give the Government current funds with which to use labor and materials in the successful prosecution of the war. We must do as President Wilson asks us to do in his message—pledge ourselves on or before June 28 to save constantly and to buy Government securities regularly. We shall then be doing our part.

A SOLEMN DUTY.

While the success of the War Savings campaign is a necessity as a measure of war, it is just as important as a peace measure. The person who invests in War Savings Stamps does not merely help win the war, but he exercises a creditable and profitable foresight. If the present War Savings campaign should fail, it would greatly cheer the Kaiser and his Potsdam crew. That is the unanswerable reason why it must succeed. That is why every loyal Kentuckian must enlist in the army of savers.

The whole outfit will be a fitting decoration for our "finest" and in accord with the season.

NEWS CANNOT PUBLISH UNSIGNED COMMUNICATIONS

It is an inviolable rule in all newspaper offices that communications for publication must bear the name of the writer, or that the identity of the writer must be known, where the communication bears no signature. This has been an established rule for years.

A communication was left at this office a few days ago by a young lady who said it had been handed her by a "lady up street," with a request to leave it at THE NEWS office. The communication was signed, "A Mother Who Would Like To Know" and dealt with an occurrence transpiring in this city recently, which reached the courts.

If the author of this communication will establish her identity, not for publication, but to assure us of her good faith, we will gladly publish the article. Otherwise it will have to be laid aside. It's a hard matter to make the public understand that a paper will not publish anonymous communications, or at least those whose authors are unknown.

PARIS MERCHANTS MAKE PRACTICAL TEST OF ADVERTISING

In order to determine the real value of any certain paper as an advertising medium, two Paris merchants have recently made an experiment from the results of which they are now convinced that "it pays to advertise." Furthermore, they are convinced that they have made a wise selection of their advertising medium, namely, THE BOURBON NEWS.

The first case in point is that of Mr. Harry Simon, who recently inaugurated a closing-out sale of the stock in his Paris house. Besides an immense number of full page circulars, Mr. Simon "carried" a full page advertisement in several issues of THE NEWS preceding the opening of the sale. On the opening day and for several days thereafter Mr. Simon had the clerks ask customers how they learned of the sale and the bargains. The response as tabulated showed that the majority of them read the advertisement in THE NEWS, and hundreds of them brought a copy of the paper to the store with them. "The business I did as the result of the advertising in THE NEWS," said Mr. Simon, "exceeded my expectations, and convinced me that the advertising the sale had received was judiciously placed, well-executed, and THE NEWS was entitled to a full share of credit for the full volume of business brought to the store."

The second case was that of Mr. R. P. Walsh, the clothier, who put on a sale. Mr. Walsh's ideas, happily, coincided with those of Mr. Simon, and THE NEWS co-operated in bringing to the Walsh house a large volume of business, which far outstripped what Mr. Walsh had expected under the circumstances. Mr. Walsh stated that he had laid plans for advertising which included the use of THE NEWS more than a circular campaign, and that he was astonished at the result.

All of which is respectfully and modestly submitted. The moral is, of course, "Advertise in THE BOURBON NEWS."

BILLION DOLLARS REPORTED ON INCOME PAYMENTS.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Saturday was the biggest tax gathering day in the nation's history. Millions, perhaps more than a billion, of income and excess profits assessments from which the Government raises most of its internal revenue, were paid June 15 to collectors in the 64 districts in such numbers that it will take two weeks to tabulate them.

Persons who failed to pay by midnight June 15, as required by law, will receive this week notices of their delinquency, with demand that they pay before June 25 in order to avoid penalties imposed after that date. Most collectors, it is said, will waive the delinquency if checks are received next Monday or Tuesday.

Nearly four million separate payments had been made up to Saturday night, it is estimated. The payments will not be fully analyzed for a year.

Offsetting the big payments in a small degree was the payment Saturday of the second semi-annual interest allowance on the first liberty loan. This amounted to about $40,000,000. Reports indicated that many holders of the first bonds failed to clip the coupons and turn them in for payment. Thousands exchanged interest coupons for war savings stamps, thus reinvesting their bond earnings.

AUTO ACCIDENT CAUSES DEATHS OF PICNICKERS.

Four members of a family picnic party were killed Tuesday, when a Louisville & Nashville passenger train struck their auto which had gone dead on the track, a mile south of Bardstown.

They were Mrs. Emma Shelton, her seven-year-old daughter and her three-months-old daughter, and her son, John Henry Lee, 25 years old, the child of a former marriage.

Miss Letitia Lee, her daughter, and the only other occupant of the car, is at St. Mary's Hospital, dying with every bone in her body broken.

The National Federation of Foundry Unions has been recently established in England, with a membership of 50,000.

BEST INVESTMENT EVER DEVELOPED

LOUISVILLE BROKER TELLS WHY THRIFT STAMPS ARE NEAREST IDEAL.

GIVE ALL CHANCE TO HELP

The Baby Bond is Perfect Investment and Brings the Economy of All the People Into Fight to Free the World.

(By Harvey S. Williams, of Williams & Monroe.)

Finance and investments have developed into as exact a science as any other branch of human research, and the doctors of finance, better known as bankers and brokers, have searched as diligently for the perfect form of investments as other scientists have for perfection in their various lines. Perfection in an investment means the certainty of fixed income with no possibility of depreciation of the principal. Heretofore government bonds of the leading nations of the world have come the nearest to realizing this ideal, but since the world went to war, even these securities have shown serious depreciation in exchangeable value.

Now, however, the United States Government has issued a security which, as far as I can discover, does actually meet the requirements of a perfect investment. It is none other than the humble War Savings Stamp, or Baby Bond, and, because the original idea was to encourage war-time thrift and economy among the great wage-earning army of America, it has been generally overlooked by the investment classes. The outstanding feature of this security is that it may be redeemed at any time before maturity at full face value and about 3 per cent interest upon ten days' written notice, while if carried to maturity in 1923, the interest rate is 4 per cent compounded quarterly, which will aggregate 4 1/2 per cent annually on the investment for the entire period.

The issue of War Savings Stamps is limited by law to $2,000,000,000, and in order to give everyone a chance to secure a part of this "safest investment ever devised," a limit of $1,000 for each individual was set by the Government. As the total issue represents only about $18 for each individual in the country, the wonder is that any effort should be necessary to sell them, and when the investors of moderate means once realize the advantage of this form of security, there will be a general demand for "the limit."

Above all question of selfish interest, however, stands the great fact that War Savings Stamps offer patriotic Americans an opportunity to help win the war by lending his money to Uncle Sam in amounts ranging from twenty-five cents up, and there is no doubt that the bringing of the war to our shores by the submarine campaign will greatly stimulate the desire to do so.

LOUISVILLE BANK GOES ON HONOR ROLL

The Liberty Insurance Bank, of Louisville, has again shown its patriotism and progressive spirit by going on the honor roll of the War Savings Stamp Limit Society. This is done by the subscription of every member of its board of directors to $1,000 in War Savings Stamps, which is the limit individuals and corporations are allowed to purchase of Baby Bonds. The War Savings Committee has every hope that all banks in Louisville will soon be on this honor roll.

This step of the Liberty Insurance Bank serves to attract additional attention to its other and varied efforts to serve the Government in the present critical period. The bank now operates a very complete department for War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, and it is a very busy department.

The bank has seven directors, every one of whom has bought the limit of $1,000 of War Savings Stamps.

JESSAMINE COUNTY HAS GOTTEN BUSY

State headquarters has received the following report from Jessamine county:

"Chairman T. G. Wilds has been busy perfecting the county organization for the sale of War Savings Stamps. Already a goodly number of stamps have been placed, and Jessamine county will again show her true colors in aid of our Government and there is every reason to believe her quota will be more than bought up. This is an opportunity for the people to save and the harvest of its good results will come on the maturity of the stamps in a little less than four and one-half years. Every $83.40 put in the June stamps matures to $100; every $83.40 matures to $100. Your sowing of the seed now means the reaping of the harvest then. Jessamine county's quota is $262,000, and we believe there is not a loyal citizen in this community who will not help put it over the top in this drive."

BUMPER CROPS PREDICTED FOR STATE AND NATION

Bumper crops of wheat, oats, rye, barley, hay and less important crops are now in sight for both Kentucky and the United States as the farmer's part in helping win the war. This has been accomplished by the farmers in spite of shortage of labor, increased cost of raising the crops, and other hindrances.

Reports on the acreage and condition of the corn, potato and tobacco crops are not yet ready for publication, but are being prepared and will be announced as quickly as reliable estimates can be secured.

Apples, peaches, pears and berries are the only crops on which full information is now available that do not show an increase in the crop prospects for this year compared to last year and the average.

Prospects for the United States crop of spring and winter wheat are now 931,000,000 bushels as compared to 650,828,000 bushels produced in 1917, while the 1918 crop in Kentucky promises to be 13,800,000 bushels, compared to 9,000,000 bushels in 1917, and an average of 9,434,000 bushels.

The United States oats crop now promises to be 1,500,000,000 bushels compared to 1,587,286,000 bushels in 1917, while Kentucky oats crop now promises a total yield of 8,250,000 bushels, compared to 8,060,000 bushels in 1917.

Hay promises a good yield from an increased acreage.

Fruit in Kentucky suffered from the severe winter. Many peach trees were partially or entirely killed by cold and raspberries and blackberries suffered similarly, though not so seriously. Apples promise a fair crop, pears from one third to one half crop.

REDUCTION OF MAXIMUM AGE AFFECTS SCHOOL CENSUS

FRANKFORT, KY., June 20.—The new law reducing the maximum school age from 20 to 18 years has cut down to a considerable extent the number of pupils in the school districts.

Under the old law there must be 60 pupils in a school district and in districts where there are not this number the district must be consolidated with another district. Only in cases where it is impossible to consolidate districts can emergency districts be declared. Superintendent of Public Instruction V. O. Gilbert asked Attorney General Charles Morris for a construction of the law concerning the establishment of emergency districts. The Attorney General held that no emergency district can be declared until every effort has been made to consolidate the district with another. No emergency district can be declared to exist which has less than 25 pupils.

A number of cases have been brought to the attention of Superintendent Gilbert where districts having less than 60 pupils have been unable to consolidate with other districts. These districts are desirous of establishing emergency districts and before any action was taken in the matter, Superintendent Gilbert submitted the matter to Attorney General Morris.

Samuel Gompers says: "We can forego luxuries for a time, be content with the primary necessities of life, in order to save for the future our heritage of freedom and the things of the spirit."

MOTORIZING THE MODERN CIRCUS GIGANTIC TASK.

Upon the shoulders of Coop & Lent, assisted by brains and capital of the circus world rests the greatest achievement of the present day, that is, putting on auto trucks and trailers, what would take a railroad train of 50 cars to transport from city to city. Coop & Lent are the very first and only large circus to actually accomplish this gigantic task. Old experienced showmen scoffed at the idea, but undaunted the progressive and hustling heads of the Coop & Lent stuck to the post and have shown the "wise men" that it can be done.

The Service Motor Truck Company of Wabash, Indiana, accepted the contract and in just thirty days from the date of signing the agreement, ninety-six immense motor trucks, trailers and luxurious living cars were delivered to Coop & Lent at a cost of half a million dollars. It is the only traveling out-door amusement enterprise in America independent of railroad transportation and the only one in the world to start the season of 1918 with a motorized equipment.

There are trucks for the elephants, beautiful sleeping cars for the performers, great trucks and trailers for the immense tents and poles, and these wonderful sights you can see if you get up early enough on the morning of Tuesday, June 25, when the Coop & Lent three ring circus and menagerie makes its appearance in Paris.

The money formerly expended in railroading and hundreds of draft horses has been used in engaging feature acts for the big show and to-day Coop & Lent can truthfully say that they have more star acts and startling circus performers than any similar amusement enterprise on earth. Among the stellar features Daille Julian, America's premier bareback rider stands supreme. As Miss Julian dashes into the arena, her sylph-like form holds the audience spell-bound. All other acts are stopped, then the daring lady mounts her snow-white thoroughbred horse, and oh, such feats of daring—an other prancing horse is brought in and as a fitting climax to a wonderful performance Miss Julian turns a complete somersault from one horse to the other while going at full speed.

Irene Montgomery's military elephants performing new and original tricks, the famous riding Davenport, the wizard of trick riders, Rhoda Royal's high school horses that do everything but talk, Bronson's living statues, the Tun Chin Chinese troupe, ten in number, the Fondelli trio sensational acrobats, the Lindeman family, thrilling mid-air artists, and thirty-two furiously funny clowns to keep you laughing are a part of the great Coop & Lent circus.

THE MARCH OF THE RED CROSS

Mr. Henry P. Davidson was in France at the time of the recent great German offensive, then later he travelled through the war-stricken parts of Italy and everywhere he went he saw the trail of suffering and destruction left by war, soothed and lessened by the Red Cross.

At one time he was awakened by a terrific explosion. Leaping to the window and looking out he saw the German bombs strike in rapid succession a dwelling some 300 yards away, a butcher shop farther down the street, and another house still farther away. Almost instantaneously some U. S. Ambulance workers appeared and began rescuing the wounded. For some minutes he watched the work of rescue, uncertain whether to go back to bed or not. Then, to his horror, flying low along the roofs, perfectly distinct in the moonlight, he saw a lone German plane returning to get the "rescue party." Almost at the same instant indeed the raider threw his bomb causing a terrific explosion in the house on the corner and knocking senseless most of the relief party. It is the usual practice of the German raider to thus return he was told calmly by the workers themselves. That, too, was part of the game.—The Red Cross Magazine for July.

ANTI-SHIPPING LAW BECAME EFFECTIVE YESTERDAY.

The anti-shipment law which forbids shipping of liquor from a "wet" city into "dry" territory, went into effect at one minute after midnight Thursday. The law is one of the most drastic yet put into force, and practically stops the "booze" business in the dry precincts. The prediction is made, though, that it may be declared unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals. The following is a full text of the law:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

"Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, individuals or corporation, public or private carrier, to bring into, transfer to other person, or persons, corporation, carrier or agent, deliver or distribute, in the county, district, precinct, town or city, where the sale of intoxicating liquor has been prohibited, whether by special act of the General Assembly or by vote of the people under the local option law, any spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquor, regardless of the name by which it may be called; and this act shall apply to all packages of such intoxicating liquor bought transferred or delivered in such territory and each package shall constitute a separate offense.

"Section 2. That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, individual or corporation, in any county, district, precinct, town or city where the sale of intoxicating liquors has been prohibited, or may be prohibited, whether by special act of the General Assembly or by vote of the people under the local option law, to receive or accept any spirituous, vinous, malt or intoxicating liquor regardless of the name by which it may be called, from common carrier, or from any other person or persons, individual or corporation, who has transported such liquor in, or into, such territory for compensation, hire or profit of any kind whatever, either directly or indirectly. Each and every package of said intoxicating liquor so received or accepted in any such territory shall constitute a separate offense.

"Section 3. The provisions of the foregoing shall not apply to the transportation of such liquors through such territory to a point of destination in some other state or to a point in this state where said liquor may be lawfully sold nor to the receipt or acceptance by a common carrier of such liquor for transportation to a point in another state or to a point in this state where the sale of said liquors is not prohibited by law, nor to the receipt or acceptance by a regular licensed druggist who may be authorized to sell liquors pursuant to the provisions of Section 2558 of Kentucky Statutes, Carroll's Edition, 1915, nor shall they prevent the transportation to a licensed druggist who is engaged in the sale of drugs, or the acceptance by him, of alcohol to be used by said druggist for medicinal or scientific purposes; nor shall they apply to one, who is not a carrier for hire, taking wine into such territory and delivering the same to an officer of a church to be used for sacramental purposes.

"Section 4. That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, while representing either the buyer or the seller, to distribute, solicit or receive contracts, proposals or orders for the purchase or sale of any spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquors, regardless of the name by which it may be called, or to distribute any handbills or posters advertising the same in any county, district, precinct, town or city within this state where the sale of intoxicating liquors is prohibited, either by special act of the General Assembly or by vote of the people under the local option law. Each act of distributing, soliciting or receiving contracts, proposals or orders as denounced herein, and each day in which handbills or posters are distributed, shall constitute a separate offense. Provided, the provisions of this section shall not apply to the soliciting of contracts, proposals or orders from regular licensed druggists who are authorized to sell intoxicating liquors pursuant to Section 2558 of Kentucky Statutes. Provided, further, that if any section or part of this bill should be held unconstitutional or invalid, it shall not affect the remainder of said law and provided further that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the distilling or manufacturing company of such liquors or any of their authorized agents from making contracts of barrel or package lots in any such territory where their distilleries or warehouses are located to be shipped into territory where the sale of such liquors may be lawful, either in or out of the state.

"Section 5. That any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum of not less than fifty ($50.00) dollars nor more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars, and imprisoned in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than fifty days.

"Section 6. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. Provided, however, the provisions of this act shall be construed to repeal or modify Section 2558 or Sub-Sections 2, 5, 6 and 7 of Section 2559b, of Kentucky Statutes in so far as they relate to licensed druggists."

BRINGING THE WAR HOME

Now that Germany has extended her policy of frightfulness and brought her U-boat warfare to the coasts of this country, there should no longer be any American unwilling or unprepared to do his utmost to settle, once for all, this diabolical and fiendish power.

If Germany had deliberately sought for a method which would do more to stir this country and bring it to its senses and to a resolution to gather all its strength, she could have found no better means than to have sent her submarine to prey off of the ships of our coast. The sinking of American vessels almost within sight of our coast line, by German submarines is, or ought to be, sufficient proof to any American that we are not safe from the ravages of war even though we are removed 3,000 miles from the conflict.

The presence of German submarines off our coast is a positive challenge to every American. President Wilson's proclamation calling for enlistments in the War Savings army on or before June 28th offers the opportunity for a good rousing American answer to that German challenge. The National War Savings committee wants to know what kind of an answer the people of Kentucky are going to give to this latest German atrocity.

DEATHS.

FARMER.

Mrs. Carrie Farmer, wife of Mr.
James Farmer, of Shawhan, died at her home at that place at 12:45
Monday morning after a year's illness of paralysis. The funeral was held Wednesday morning at the Shawhan Presbyterian church, of which she was a member. The services were conducted by Rev. Sidney J. Venable. The burial took place in the Jacksonville Cemetery.

Mrs. Farmer was formerly a resident of Cynthiana, but moved to Shawhan about six years ago. She was a daughter of the late Rudolph and Mary Wilson, and was born April 20, 1870. She was married March 12, 1870. Mrs. Farmer is survived by her husband, Mr. James Farmer, her mother, Mrs. Mary Wilson, one daughter, Miss Gladys Farmer, and two brothers, Jack Wilson, of Paris, and James Wilson, of Shawhan.

DICKINSON.

The funeral of Mr. Guy Dickinson, who died in Louisville, Saturday morning after a protracted illness, was held Sunday afternoon at his former home, Glasgow, the burial following services held at the family residence.

Mr. Dickinson was a member of the First Kentucky Regiment in the Spanish-American war. While in service he contracted a severe cold, which eventually resulted in the illness which caused his death. He was a son of Mrs. Mary Dickinson, of Glasgow, and a brother of Mrs. W.
E. Ellis, of Paris. Mrs. Dickinson and Mrs. W. S. Porter, an aunt of Mr. Dickinson, were visiting at the home of Mrs. Ellis, in Paris, when they received word of the fatal termination of Mr. Dickinson's illness.
They left at once, accompanied by Mrs. Ellis, for Glasgow. Rev. Ellis left after the morning service at the Christian church.

THE CHAUTAUQUA.

Although it will be several weeks
yet before the big Chautauqua tent will be erected in this city, interest is already being manifested in the approaching event, which gives promise of being fully equal to its predecessors in every respect. The program which will be presented this year is one of the best the White-Meyers System has yet put on the road, according to the verdict rendered by the cities where it has already been presented.

The Chautauqua means much to this community. Presented this year for the benefit of the Red Cross, the cause should appeal to the people.
The strength and quality of the programs are an uplift. They will afford opportunity for cultured entertainments that is not the usual privilege of small cities. They give a chance to breathe a different atmosphere.
They give a new view of life. They are all to the good. There is no question about the immense benefit of the Chautauqua and it should be liberally patronized by our people.

Display advertisements that have been printed in THE NEWS have told in an alluring way of the attractions that will be presented at this season's Chautauqua. Others will follow from time to time. Season tickets will soon be on sale at places that will be designated later on, at $2.00 for the twelve sessions, or $1.00 for those under twelve years of age.

LEESBURG POSTMASTER MAY FOUND NOT GUILTY

Frank May, former postmaster at Leesburg, Harrison county, who was arrested several weeks ago on evidence uncovered by Postal Inspector V. R. Beck, which charged him with falsifying his office records, was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner S. S. Yantis and acquitted of the charge against him.

Attorney Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, defended the accused. In addition to being postmaster, Mr.
May is a merchant at Leesburg.
Since the report made by the postal inspector on his findings at Leesburg, the postoffice at that place has been discontinued by order of the postoffice department.

FOOD ADMINISTRATOR REGU- LATES SELLING OF SUGAR.

Fred M. Sackett, Federal Food Administrator, has issued directions to all persons selling sugar in the State of Kentucky that the following regulations become effective at once.

1—Retail sales of sugar for household purposes must be limited to two
(2) pounds to city and town residents, and five (5) pounds to rural and city residents.

2—Retail sales of sugar for canning and preserving must be limited to twenty-five (25) pounds at one time, and then only when accompanied by a signed certificate on the Government form pledging the customer to use that particular sugar for the particular purpose of canning and preserving food.

3—Customers are expected to limit the use of sugar for household purposes to three (3) pounds per month per person.

4—Manufacturers using sugar can only buy sugar through the Sugar Division of the Food Administration, 701 Inter-Southern Building, Louisville, Kentucky, from which Department they must secure sugar certificates. This applies to operators of soda fountains, candy, syrup, soft drink, and ice cream makers as well as every other article made in whole or in part of sugar.

5—In hotels, restaurants and all public eating places sugar must be kept covered and closely watched at all times to prevent waste. Not more than two cubes of sugar to be served to each person for a pot or cup of coffee or tea. Granulated or powdered sugar to be served by counter man or waiter for berries, cereals and fruits.

The above regulations, some of which have been in force for several weeks were made public and forwarded to all parts of the State upon receipt of urgent telegrams from Mr.
Hoover at Washington, who wired that developments in the sugar situation in the last few days made increased conservation in sugar imperatively necessary.

RELIGIOUS.

At the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, a meeting will be held for men. The Gospel Workers are expected to be in attendance, as it will be the fourth Sunday in the month.

The Endeavor, Society of the Christian church will meet in the church parlors at seven o'clock Sunday evening. Subject, "How To Have A Good Time." Leader, Miss Esther Boatright.

The Methodist Episcopal Church will soon begin a world-wide campaign to secure pledges for $80,000, 000 for home and foreign missions work. At a meeting of District Superintendents and other officials of the church, held in Columbus, Ohio, Wednesday, plans for the campaign were outlined.

Two more names have been added to the Honor Roll of the Paris Christian church, of men who are in the army or navy service—Miller Casey and Ernest Watson. There are now forty-eight young men in the service of the United States, who are members of the congregation or Sunday school of the church.

CAN IT BE POSSIBLE?

Some time ago uncertainty as to the quality of water furnished patrons of the Paris Water Company furnished the topic of conversation or argument pro and con in many places in Paris. The discussion waxed warm and adherents of both sides grew warmer.

The agitation finally led to attempts to have the water scientifically analyzed. Three samples of the water taken from hydrants in different localities were secured and sent by Mayor E. B. January to the State Board of Health at Bowling Green, with a request that a thorough, comprehensive and accurate chemical analysis be made and a report submitted. Wednesday the following reply was received by Mayor January from Dr. Jas. M. McCormick, State Sanitary Inspector for the State Board of Health:

"Bowling Green, Ky.

June 18, 1918.

"Dear Sir—We regret to inform you that all three samples of water submitted by you still show some evidence of pollution with colon bacillus or sewage bacteria from intestinal discharges.

"If we can be of further service to you, please call upon us.

"Yours Truly,

J. M. McCORMICK,
"State Sanitary Inspector."

THE NEWS submits to the people of Paris that, though the above report does not necessarily imply a scare, they should boil all water used for drinking purposes, as a measure of precaution. Notice to that effect was published some weeks ago by order of the City Board of Health.
